Merry Christmas to All!

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

"Opinion is the medium between knowledge and ignorance." – Plato

It is Christmas time, that time honored season when all the children expect to get gifts on that special morning. Now those gifts are not always what the child wants, but more what some loved one thought they SHOULD want. What brings us to the 'should' is a personal incident in our young teenage life. First it should be acknowledged that our demeanor was somewhat short of always being the nice guy, even at that young age. This particular Christmas morning was one of those awful days. My wealth of good gifts included a blue terry cloth bathrobe, and I was indigent and expressed it vocally. Mother just sat there and didn't say a word. Fast forward some 70 years and that robe is hanging on a hook on the bathroom door after following me through my school years, storage during two separate military tours, early bachelorhood, newly married, 57 years of marriage and everything in between up until today. Several years ago, the females in my family suggested we trash this old robe and get a new one. That was faced with me being indignant. By this time the belt loops were torn, the belt had long disappeared, and a hole had developed right where it hung on the various nails or hooks during all those years. It is used most winter days, especially on the coldest ones – like this week. Replacing this robe crossed our mind one morning recently while holding it up and 'admiring' that ever-enlarging tear at the top, but right now doubt that will happen. Now the bad side of this story is . . . I never even thought about apologizing to my sweet and thoughtful mother for my rude outburst that Christmas morning and now it is several years too late. That still bothers me but alas, there is no way to remedy the situation. The moral of this is to urge you to not be that rude jerk and if you are already past that point give a heartfelt apology before it is too late! Then you will not share my utter embarrassment, at least not over that issue.

The excitement over the release of the Donald Trump 'stuff' with recommendations for the legal folks to follow up comes as no surprise to most of us. We also expect a lot more news reports, hearings, lawyer fillings etc., that will become fewer and further between until they just fade away. It seems that in politics, when the wheel stops squeaking, the driver stops tending to it. With the American public being well known for tiring of discussing the negatives of yesterday's daily life and move on to some new matter to gash our teeth over, the folks in power will let those older issues fade away.

Select Postal facilities in the Alabama-Mississippi District are extending their hours and will provide full retail services, including stamp sales and package acceptance. The optimum word is "select". Customers may click this link 2022 USPS Post Office Holiday Closings & Hours | USPS for the USPS holiday service schedule. Enter a ZIP Code to search for a Post Office near you to see the available services and holiday hours. Don't bother to check on the local post office schedule changes, it is not one of the ones selected to add additional open hours. We hope that is because the local folks are more than capable of handling the additional shipping without the extra office hours.

Merry Christmas – be safe and enjoy your family, friends and the holiday season!

CCMGA installs officers for 2023-2025

The Coffee County Master Gardener's Association [CCMGA] met for its annual Christmas party at the home of Vanessa and Brad Allen.

Brad had prepared pulled pork and a five-gallon cauldron of camp stew, and members attending brought side dishes. Some attendees brought a gift for the "Dirty Santa Exchange." A new twist was added to the gift exchange this year, CCMGA President Ed Speigner brought a "white elephant" gift and the person who ended up with it will have to bring it as their gift next year. Brenda Evans ended up with the white elephant.

Installation of officers was performed by Jacque Hawkins who reminded them of their responsibilities and declared them duly installed as officers for CCMGA for January 2023 through December 2024. If you are interested in becoming a Master Gardener, contact Coffee County Extension Office, 334-894-5596, and get your name on the list for the next Master Gardener Intern Training.

Little Bean took ill last week, and that upset the Yonder Gang's world as Cuzin Lou Lou, Sister, and Papa were worried about their little furry family member.

After a visit to a local veterinarian – Little Bean's regular vet away at the time of her illness – the cause of the illness was determined to be a bacterial infection. Some antibiotics were prescribed, and the good news is that Little Bean quickly responded to the meds and began feeling better.

The not-so-fun part of the ordeal has been actually getting 'Little Bean' to take her medication!

Anyone who says dogs can't understand you and/or don't realize what is going on...well, Cuzin Lou Lou will tell you, those folks are flat out wrong! It has been a battle to get Bean to digest her antibiotic each and every time.

And, disguising the medication wrapped inside some of her favorite foods does not work either! The little rascal has literally taken the 'treat' from Cuzin Lou Lou, spit it back out on the floor, and examined it for "foreign objects" hidden away! More times that Lou Lou wants to admit, Bean has eaten everything given to her except the medication, leaving it lying on the floor with an "try again" attitude for the Yonder Gang.

It has been determined that Little Bean is too smart for her own good when it comes to taking her medication! She refuses to be tricked, and every time the Gang thinks they have figured out a new way to trick her...well, she quickly proves them wrong once again.

Hopefully, once Bean has completed this round of antibiotics, it will be a long time before she has to go through that again, and Lou Lou says never will be soon enough! She gets tired just thinking about the battle with Bean!!

Until next time...God Bless, Keep Smiling, and Have a Merry Christmas!!

How to Plan for Seasonal Grief

If you've ever lost a loved one, you know that grief can come in cycles. Certain events - your loved one's birthday, an anniversary, a favorite holiday, a certain time of the year - can be all it takes to unleash a huge wave of grief.

You can't always stop this wave from coming; if you know that certain seasons are hard on you, though, you can prepare yourself to cope.

One suggestion is to lean into your memories; rather than trying to suppress them, actively seek to honor and share them. For example, if your family is having a big holiday gathering, make your deceased loved one's favorite dish for everyone to share, and invite loved ones to voice favorite memories.

Be proactive in taking care of yourself, physically and emotionally. Take some time to get outside and walk each day. Sunlight and fresh air can be good mood boosters. And, be sure to eat and sleep properly. Express your feelings of intensified grief, even if it's just by writing them down in a journal.

More than anything, avoid isolating yourself. Seek out the close friends and loved ones in whom you can confide. Don't shy away from family gatherings, even if you know they will bring some sadness. Try to stay close to the people you love, and the people you know will support and encourage you.

Finally, consider creating some kind of a memory box or memento with which you can honor your lost loved one - remembering their life and legacy even in a busy time of the year.

Grief can be very cyclical, and some dates on the calendar may fill you with apprehension - but with these steps, you can meet that apprehension head-on.

PASTOR'S CORNER

What do you see?

After the angel told the shepherds that a savior had been born in Bethlehem—Christ the Lord—(Luke 2:11), their response is this: "Let's go and see this thing that has happened" (vs. 15). Then Luke simply comments that they "hurried off and found Mary and Joseph, and the baby, who was lying in the manger" (vs. 16).

Try and imagine this scene. Can you picture it in your mind? Animals aren't mentioned, but there must have been some around. Was there a fire burning somewhere for warmth? Probably. Even with my conjecturing and adding some details to the story, it's simple, isn't it? I'd even say it's, well...ordinary. Just another day in Bethlehem. Just another birth, or so it would seem.

But vs. 17 holds a clue to something that is, well...not so ordinary about this scene: It says, "When they had seen him, they spread the word concerning what had been told them about this child." —

I wonder what they saw. Was baby Jesus glowing? Did he have an aura surrounding him. I don't really know, but I doubt it. I think the scene is still very ordinary. But when they saw him, they saw something more than the ordinary, didn't they? They were seeing not with their eyes so much, but with their heart. Now this is important. Let's linger here a bit.

When you hear this story read, when you see a manger scene in church, or in a yard somewhere, do you just see the ordinary and think how plain it all is or can you "see" what the shepherds did? It's interesting that what they "saw" made them want to "spread the word concerning what had been told them" about that little baby in the manger (vs. 17). In fact, they were exuberant, filled with joy just as the angel had said, "glorifying and praising God for all the things they had heard and seen..." (vs. 20).

This Christmas, take a good, long look at that manger. What do you see?

This Day

The angel announced "unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour," (Luke 2:11). Of course, we do not know exactly what day this day was. We are not certain that Jesus was born on December 25, or, for that matter, in the month of December. And, that, of course, is not really important.

We have set aside a day to honor Christ's birth. What is important is that we use the day to honor Him.

We call this particular day Christmas; however, British writer Dorothy Sayers once suggested that we should call it Wishmas. She claimed that in fact this had already occurred and that Wishmas had superseded the commemoration of Christmas. It was marked, she said, by "the exchange of cards, bearing wishes for the 'recipients' material prosperity and frequently adorned with ice, snow, holly, and other polar symbols." She also noted that the day was characterized by "factitious heartiness and family friction." Is it really true that the holiday known as Christmas is more correctly described as Wishmas? Has it lost its spiritual and Christian significance? No doubt it has for many.

One liquor company erected a huge billboard at Christmas time right across the street from a church. The billboard showed the picture of a bottle of whiskey and declared, "the spirit of Christmas!"

If we cannot turn Wishmas back to Christmas nationally, or even locally, we can certainly do so in our own hearts and homes. We can make certain that at least for us and our families, "this day" — indeed, every day — will always honor Christ.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Becoming a well-known and respected icon in the Alabama's Legislature

Jimmy Holley carved a political career spanning more than four decades with him serving in both the House and Senate

by Michele Gerlach

When Jimmy Holley thinks back over what some would consider a lifetime in elected office, speculating about what might have influenced him to serve, he is reminded of a specific day in his Alabama History class.

"I was a ninth grader at Damascus School in the Coffee County Schools System," he recalled. "Ned Young was the principal and my teacher."

Young had invited the county's state representative to speak to the class and asked his students to write down questions they'd like to ask then-Rep. Drexel Cook.

"I was one of the few who actually wrote down some questions, and I guess it impressed Drexel," Holley recalled. "After the class, I got a private 20 to 30-minute meeting with him in the principal's office."

The veteran senator and former state representative thinks that meeting might have planted a seed for him, but he also points to the influence of his family.

"My granddaddy, Daddy's father, was a beat committee man and served at the polls some," Holley recalled. "He had served in the Army in World War I in France, and I recall we couldn't get him to talk about it. I asked him once, 'Daddy John, what did you do in the war?' He said, 'I carried ammunition to the front line and dead bodies back.' I guess he had a good reason not to talk about it."

Perhaps as a result of his military service, Holley's grandfather followed the news closely on the radio.

"If you were rough-housing and loud, you had to sit down and listen to the news with him," he said. "He was serious about keeping up with the world."

He also was an admirer of President Franklin Roosevelt.

"He said he was a Democrat because 'President Roosevelt kept my family from starving.'"

12 RACES, ONLY 1 LOSS

In 1970, the younger Holley, like most everyone else in his district, was also a Democrat.

After graduating from high school, he struggled to work full-time at Dorsey Trailers at night and maintain his studies at Troy State University.

"I was trying to do both, and decided I couldn't go to school anymore," he said. "I got a job at Ft. Rucker, but it was where I didn't see many people. I came home one weekend and told Mother, 'I think I'll call (my daddy's sister's husband) and see if that offer still stands for me to live with them and go to school.'"

Holley called them on a Friday. The immediate answer was, "Yes. I'll be down there Sunday (to get you)."

He enrolled in East Tennessee State University where he earned a degree and met the woman who would become his wife and partner in all things, including politics, albeit a reluctant one.

"I taught at Greenville Junior High School in East Tennessee for six months while Mary finished her degree," he said.

The young couple borrowed a truck, loaded their belongings in the back, and moved back to Coffee County, where the educators both went to work.

In 1970, when Holley qualified for his first political race, seeking election to the Alabama House of Representatives, Alabama was still a one-party state. He lost a close race to Doug Easters, but it was his political only loss. Holley qualified again in 1974, and this time, defeated Easters to earn a seat in the Alabama House of Representatives that he held for 20 years.

In his first term, he kept quiet, paid attention, and studied proposed legislation and legislative rules.

"The (political) process doesn't lend itself to a freshman, unless you have a well-known background in politics, being in the spotlight," he said. "I think it was because I was quiet, paid attention, didn't over-extend my welcome."

The time spent studying would serve him well in the years to come. Holley earned a reputation as a master of the rules, which allowed him to pass or block proposed legislation.

"I wouldn't say I could quote them verbatim, but I could come close," he said.

His last election to the Alabama House of Representatives was in 1990. For much of that final House term that ended in 1994, he worked on helping Elba recover from the 1990 flood, putting together funding to rebuild the city's entire school system.

It has been speculated by some who watched him work that term that he was exhausted from the effort when he decided not to seek reelection in 1994. But, he says, it was Mrs. Holley who decided he had been there long enough.

"I left the House because of the need to concentrate on a career," he said. "Mary was tired and needed a break and asked me not to run. Because of that, we chose not to."

But four years later, when he wanted to pursue election to the Alabama Senate, she agreed. He went on to win five consecutive terms in the state Senate, serving from 1998 until 2022.

If you ask him about the most difficult of his 11 successful campaigns — some of which involved runoffs and/or opposition in the General Election — he says defeating a sitting senator might have been the most difficult.

"It was hard, and it was expensive, both time and money-wise," he said.

But Mary Holley says they were all hard. "You never know how it will turn out," she said. "Sometimes you have difficulty breathing."

LEGISLATIVE LEGACY

In his 44 years in the Alabama legislature, he influenced all kinds of legislation. A recent effort to document all the bills he sponsored produced a partial list that spans six, typewritten legal pages.

"My first local bill was permitting basket fishing in the Pea River," he laughingly recalled. "The fishermen liked to put their baskets out, but it was illegal to do so. We wrote the legislation that you had to have a tag on the basket with your name on it, and you could have all the baskets you wanted, you just had to get a license to do so."

He also passed a series of bills that reformed local government, including the consolidation of the offices of the tax assessor and tax collector into a revenue commissioner; moving the probate judge from a fee system to salary; setting a salary for county commissioners and precluding them from having a state-owned vehicle.

But in the pages and pages of bills, there is none more important than the legislation that paved the way for four-laning U.S. Hwy. 84 through Southeast Alabama, from Andalusia to the Georgia/Alabama state line.

"In the realm of all the things I've been involved in, particularly for Southeast Alabama, Hwy. 84 was the landmark involvement that I had," he said. "I genuinely believe that it will add to the quality of life of all of our citizens in Southeast Alabama — Elba, Enterprise, Dothan, Opp, Andalusia and even Sanford."

In addition to securing funding to rebuild Elba City Schools, as a senator, he helped secure funding to rebuild Enterprise High School after the deadly tornadoes of 2007.

WITNESS TO HISTORY

Sen. Holley served with eight different governors — George Wallace, Fob James, Guy Hunt, Jim Folsom Jr., Don Siegelman, Bob Riley, Robert Bentley and Kay Ivey.

"Bob Riley was probably the most progressive of the group," he said. "Siegelman in his best days was the best politician. He understood the pulse of the community and was an enjoyment to be around."

It was during Riley's second term, in 2008, that Holley moved to the Republican party, making the official announcement in January. It was a long way from the boy who listened to his grandfather talk about President Roosevelt.

"I think he would have been a Republican if he had been alive today," Holley said. "I had to convince myself of that before I could change."

He quickly gives credit to other legislators who helped him get bills passed for South Alabama.

"I would be remiss if I didn't thank Seth Hammett," he said of the former State Representative for Covington County, who served for 32 years, including nine years as Speaker of the House.

"I could trust him," he said. "And I enjoyed watching him in such a position of importance."

He was fun to watch operate, because he was good at it and honest with it. We miss that in the state."

In the entire legislature, there's only one member — Sen. Jabo Waggoner — who's served longer than Holley.

IT ALL COMES BACK TO FAMILY

"If there is anything to point to why I was successful, it is the fact that I had good parents and grandparents, and their reputations carried me a long way toward election and reelection many times," he said.

His father was a long-serving and much-loved policeman, and his parents also owned Holley's Restaurant for decades.

"When I was running my first campaign or so, I would knock on the door and back would come the question, 'Who is it?'"

"When I said, 'Jimmy Holley,' they would say, 'Who are your mama and daddy? Are you John Holley's boy?' When I said, 'Yes,' they'd invite me to pull up a chair and eat dinner with them."

Almost 50 years later, his family is again the focus of his conversations.

For several years, Mary Holley has accompanied the senator to Montgomery almost every trip. As was the case after her husband's five terms in the House, it was she who decided six Senate terms would be enough.

And so, Jimmy W. Holley completed 44 years in elected office this year. In recent years, he's dealt with constant and debilitating back pain, and recently was diagnosed with Parkinson's. But he's not giving up. After years of attending ballgames to campaign, the couple's goal now is to spend more time watching their grandsons, ages 12 and 10, play one of their chosen sports.

"That's what we enjoy more than anything else," he said. "Going to watch the boys play basketball, football or baseball."

It is a predictable choice for a man who believes having a good family paved the way for his political career.

"I've been blessed to be able to do what I did for the number of years that I did it," he said. "The people of Southeast Alabama are wonderful people."

*Editor's Note: In celebrating the political career of Jimmy Holley as he retired this year after more than 40 years serving in the Alabama Legislature and recognizing his love for family through it all, The Elba Clipper staff felt it befitting to honor the Jimmy and Mary Holley family as our 2022 Elba Christmas Family (featured on the front page).

City of Elba
Holiday Schedule:

THE CITY OF ELBA OFFICES will be closed Friday, Dec. 23, and Monday, Dec. 26 in observance of the Christmas holidays. Garbage service will run on the regular schedule the week of Christmas. City offices also will be closed Monday, Jan. 2, for the New Year's Day holiday. Garbage service will run on the regular schedule.

For utility emergencies during these times, call the Elba Police Department at (334) 897-2555 to report an outage.

ALEA's '12 Days of Safety' begins Thursday, Dec. 22nd, running through the new year

Holiday safety is an issue that burns brightest from late November to mid-January, when families gather, parties are scheduled and travel spikes. No matter the activity or festive event, the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency (ALEA) urges motorists traveling on Alabama roadways to slow down and prepare ahead of your trip to ensure that everyone arrives safely to their destination.

ALEA Secretary Hal Taylor said, "The days leading up to Christmas through New Year's Day are a wonderful time for celebration and happiness, as this is truly a season to cherish with friends and family. However, we all must remember the hazards associated with traveling during this busy time of year.

Whether it is preparing your vehicle for long trips and changing weather conditions to being smart while driving defensively on short trips, we strongly encourage motorists to be aware and take full advantage of the tips within this safety message. This Agency is devoted to saving lives and ensuring everyone travels safely and returns home safely."

The extended holiday travel period will begin at 12:01 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 24, and end at midnight Sunday, Jan. 1, 2023. During this time, ALEA's Troopers assigned to the Highway Patrol Division will conduct a variety of enforcement activities, including driver license and equipment check points, to curb such deadly behaviors as driving under the influence, driving while distracted, not buckling up, speeding and following too closely.

To continue to educate drivers throughout the holiday season, the Agency will also launch an online "12 Days of Safety" campaign, which will begin Thursday, Dec. 22, and run through New Year's until Jan. 2, 2023. During this year's message strategy, ALEA will share tips and information to shed light on various risky driving behaviors and their potential consequences, with a focus on impaired driving and speeding. According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), traffic crashes involving an impaired driver killed 937 people nationwide in December of 2020 alone. Speeding remains one of America's most dangerous driving behaviors and was a contributing factor in 29 percent of all fatal crashes in 2020, according to NHTSA data.

Director of ALEA's Department of Public Safety (DPS) Colonel Jimmy Helms said, "Traveling over the posted speed limit and driving impaired continue to be leading contributing factors behind crashes during holiday travel periods. Therefore, ALEA continues to stress the importance of following all traffic laws, but especially obeying all posted speed limits. It is also extremely critical to understand and remember, if you plan to ring in the New Year, you must celebrate responsibly. While rejoicing in the holiday activities it's vital that everyone use a designated driver or some type of a ride-sharing service, because ALEA's Highway Patrol Division will have a zero tolerance for impaired drivers this holiday travel period."

Governor awards grants to assist domestic violence and sexual assault victims

Alabama Governor Kay Ivey has awarded grants totaling $7.1 million to help provide services to domestic violence victims across the state.

The funds will provide services including safe shelter, crisis lines, counseling, referrals, advocacy and assistance in filing victims' compensation claims.

"Domestic violence unfortunately continues to affect some Alabama families and residents, and they deserve to have access to quick and compassionate services to help them take steps toward recovery and prevent further abuse," Gov. Ivey said. "I am pleased to support these organizations who help victims navigate the legal system and begin to heal."

The Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs is administering the grants from funds made available by the U.S. Department of Justice.

"ADECA shares Gov. Ivey's dedication to helping victims of domestic abuse by making sure they and those who are assisting them have the resources they need as they rebuild their lives," ADECA Director Kenneth Boswell said.

The House of Ruth Inc. serving Barbour, Bullock, Coffee, Covington, Dale, Geneva, Henry, Houston, and Pike Counties will receive $427,034.00.

Both my grandsons went to visit Santa last week and while four-month old Cannon was less than thrilled to sit with an old man with a beard, twelve-year old Lawson knew it was an annual thing to do and gave the merry old man a high five. Merry Christmas!

For what it is worth....

 The Elba Tigers upped their winning streak to six games early last week before running out of gas in a tournament in Florala as they dropped three straight and saw their record slip to 6-6. The Tigers success on the court is based on their quickness and three-point shooting on offense and an aggressive style on defense, and I think their ambitious schedule may have played in part to their downfall in the tournament. Elba closed out the pre-holiday schedule this week with two more games, which meant the Tigers played seven games in nine days, which was not a formula for success for a team with very little depth. When the Tigers are well rested and ready to run they are a fun team to watch, and there will be plenty more games in which that will be the case. So, look for many more wins after the holidays.

 The Elba Lady Tigers ran their winning streak to five games last week and moved into the number eight spot in the state rankings, but then dropped two of three games at a tournament in Florala as they record slipped to 6-4. The Lady Tigers play as hard on defense as any team you will see and don't really care if they are called for fouls, while over on offense they have one of the state's top sophomores in A'Lyric Whitfield and play a fast, full-court style that can wear out their opponents. If the Elba girls can find a couple of players to score points they could be in for a long, successful season.

 The high school basketball season is considered to be at the midway point when the holidays roll around and if that is the case area fans are in for some exciting nights ahead at area gyms as all the teams in the area are fun to watch. On the boys side, Brantley looks like a state title threat after making a trip to the Final Four last season, and is filled with Bulldogs that are capable of taking charge of a game on any given night, while Kinston has played a tough early-season slate and should be a team to watch in post-holiday play, Zion Chapel can compete with any team in any classification on any given night and can be a spoiler in area action, and New Brockton got its first win last week and is much better than its record indicates and may just be ready to get on a roll. Over on the girls side, New Brockton has seen some of its early-season excitement wean with a couple of losses, but is still a team to keep an eye on in the 3A ranks, while Brantley has a couple of solid players and is a team no one really wants to play; Kinston has been roughed up in early-season play by bigger and more talented teams, but will be a tough team to beat in 1A; and, Zion Chapel plays hard every night out, but will just have to look ahead and just try to learn and improve as it rebuilds the program.

 I watched both UAB and Troy win their bowl games and was proud to see the Blazers send their interim-coach out in style and the Trojans put their defense on display to the world. UAB's players endorsed their interim coach (Bryant Vincent) as the man for the job going forward, but their wishes were ignored as the people in charge went with a former NFL quarterback (Trent Dilfer) that won a couple of state championships as a coach at a private school in Tennessee. Big names obviously mean more than dedication and hard work! The Trojan defense carried its team the entire season and was the driving force behind the team that posted a 12-2 record and left its mark in the history books. Everyone that says 'defense wins championships' should love Troy, because its offense had to be among the worst in the nation on a team that won 12 games. Forget the stats, it was a great year to be a Trojan!

 In closing... I know I am probably in the minority, but I was glad to see 'Coach Prime' go out a loser in his final game at Jackson State. While it was true the colorful and out-spoken head coach brought a lot of attention to the small college in Jackson, Mississippi, to me it seemed it was never about the school or the team, but about 'Coach Prime.' In last weekend's bowl game the new coach at Colorado was dressed like he was at practice and wore his designer sun glasses despite the fact the game was played in a dome. Get ready Colorado, it will be 'Prime Time' very soon as the coach formerly known as Deion Sanders continues his try out for the head job at Florida State.

Elba Tigers make it six in-a-row

The Elba Tigers ran their winning streak to six games last week with home court wins over Zion Chapel 61-48 and Goshen 62-39.

Following are highlights of both wins:

Elba 54 Zion Chapel 48

The Elba Tigers rallied from an eight point first quarter deficit to claim an exciting 54-48 home court win over the Zion Chapel Rebels, last Monday night at the Tiger gym.

Zion Chapel came out on fire in the cross-county clash and behind the play of Jacob Chestnut and Mason Stuart helped the Rebels open up a 15-7 lead with 1:56 left in the opening quarter. A late basket by Elba's Jamal Siler cut the Rebels lead to 15-9 heading into the second quarter and sparked a 9-0 Tiger run that put Elba on top 4:46 with 4:46 remaining in the second quarter.

Zion Chapel regained the lead at 21-17 on a basket by Hayden Speckert with 2:34 left in the half, but the Tigers again came roaring back and led by the play of Jacob Watkins and Jamal Siler went in at the half with a 25-24 lead.

The Rebels went back on top early in the third quarter on a three-pointer by Slade Grantham, only to see Elba stage yet another rally as Ty Sieving and JT Coleman sparked a 7-0 run that put the Tigers on top 32-27 with 5:08 left in the stanza.

Elba closed the third quarter on a three-pointer by Cameron Gray and opened the fourth quarter on a three-pointer by Jacob Watkins to push the Tigers lead to 43-32, but Zion Chapel refused to quit and led by the play of Mason Stuart and Slade Grantham pulled within 50-48 with 49-seconds left on the clock. A layup by Ty Sieving upped the Elba lead to 52-48 with 32-seconds left, and the Tigers hit four straight free throws in the closing seconds to ice the 56-48 win.

Jamal Siler scored 14 points and JT Coleman added 12 to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Tigers were Cody Green 7, Cameron Gray 7, Jacob Watkins 7, Ty Sieving 6 and Taylon Purvis 3. Scoring for the Rebels were Slade Grantham 23, Jacob Chestnut 11, Layton Grantham 6, Mason Stuart 6 and Hayden Speckert 2.

Elba 62 Goshen 39

The Elba Tigers pulled away from a slim three-point opening quarter lead to dump the Goshen Eagles 62-39, last Tuesday night in Elba.

Jamal Siler ad Ty Sieving combined for 11 points in the opening quarter to help Elba open up a slim 15-12 lead, but the Tigers picked up the pace in the second quarter and led by a pair of three-pointers by Cody Gray outscored the Eagles 16-9 to push their lead to 31-21 by the end of the half. Cameron Gray drained two three-pointers and scored a total of eight points in the third quarter as Elba's lead grew to 48-29, and the Tigers coasted in the final stanza to claim the impressive 62-39 win.

Cameron Gray score 19 points, grabbed 5 rebounds and had 3 steals to lead Elba, while Ty Sieving added 14 points, Jamal Siler added 9 points grabbed 6 rebounds, Cody Gray added 8 points, Taylon Purvis added 7 points and grabbed 6 rebounds, JT Coleman added 4 points, grabbed 5 rebounds and had 4 steals, and Brayden Johnson scored 1 point. RJ Boston scored 13 points to lead Goshen.

Roland and Brandon Bell

Father and son duo earn nationwide prep football honors at Southern Prep Academy

While Southern Prep Academy head football coach Roland Bell has already etched his name in the record books at the prestigious school located in Camp Hill, Alabama, another Bell may soon join him in the record books as his son Brandon Bell has already gained national recognition as a member of the Fighting Rangers football team.

Brandon Bell, a 6'2", 250-pound, center, started as a freshman this season on the Southern Prep varsity after playing on the junior varsity since the sixth grade. The powerful lineman started on the JV squad in the seventh grade and dressed out with the varsity, while as an eighth grader he started three games on the varsity.

It was recently announced that the freshman standout had been named as a 'Rising Star,' which is a prelude to All-American for younger high school players across the nation. Players on the national list are nominated by coaches across the country from private schools and are chosen after evaluations by a selection committee.

"Brandon has worked hard ever since the first time he put on the pads years ago and is dedicated to being the best he can be," said a proud coach and father Roland Bell. "He has been challenged by opponents all the way up because of his physical stature, but took the challenge head on and never backed down.

He works hard in the classroom, the weight room and on the football field, and is determined to be a dominant force in the line for years to come."

While Brandon is still building his resume, his father Roland Bell has been active in sports for all his life and was multi-sport standout at Zion Chapel High School and later as a member of the Troy State University football team.

Coach Bell has been the head football coach and athletic director at Southern Prep Academy for the past five years, and leads the Fighting Rangers as they compete in both 8-man and 11-man football against teams from states across the southeast.

During his career at Southern Prep, his teams have set records for most points scored in a game (64 vs. Lighthouse Christian, in 2018); largest margin of victory (61, in a 61-0 win over Camp Jewel House, in 2019, and in a 61-0 win over Meadowview Academy, in 2021); wins in a season (8, in 2019); wins in a season (9, in 2021); longest winning streak (7, in 2021); and points scored in a season (366, in 2021). The team also hosted the first playoff game in school history in 2021, a 47-20 victory.

Southern Prep has been ranked in the National High School Association national poll each of the last four seasons, was the NHSA 8-man football Division 2 National Champions in 2019, was the NHSA 8-man football Division 2 National Runner-Up in 2021.

During his five-year career at Southern Prep, Coach Bell has led his teams to the only playoff wins in school history, has moved into the number two spot in coaching victories at the school, and is only the second coach in school history to have a career winning record.

In his first four seasons as the head coach at Southern Prep, 10 Fighting Rangers have been offered football scholarships, six players have accepted scholarships, four players were named private school All-Americans in 2019, one player was selected private school All-American in 2020, and had seven players named private school All-Americans in 2021, and had six players named private school All-Americans in 2022.

Coach Bell was selected as the defensive coordinator for the South team at the 2020 All-American game, won by the South 47-0; was selected as the offensive coordinator for the winning South team in 2021; and, will return this season as the offensive coordinator for the team at the annual nationwide all-star game played at Gatlinburg, Tennessee.

While Coach Bell admits the school's military background and strict academic code may have a negative impact on the number of high school athletes choosing to attend the school, the school's varsity and junior varsity teams combine to dress out almost sixty players each season.

"There is no doubt we can't hand pick any high school standouts to attend our school," said Bell, "but the strict discipline code at the school does have a positive impact on the players and helps them develop a 'team first' mentality. All the players work hard on the football field to be successful, and in recent years that work ethic has paid off and paid dividends for the players, the team and the school. We have gained national recognition both academically and athletically, and are blessed to have many future leaders on our student rosters."

"While we are primarily an eight-man team in football, we do also play a couple of games each season against 11-man teams," added Coach Bell. "We do that to give our players added exposure to college coaches and also give them a taste of what eleven-man football is all about. The players that have received scholarship offers were all from colleges that play eleven-man football. So, the added exposure helped and even though it is a challenge, the players readily accept the challenge and actually look forward to the games. When you put the X's and O's on the chalk board there is obviously a difference in eight-man and eleven-man football, there are also similarities since every player has a responsibility and it comes down to hat against hat."

Brandon Bell (l) and Coach Roland Bell have once again received nationwide honors in high school football at Southern Prep Academy, in Camp Hill, Alabama.

As holiday travel period continues through midnight Sunday, Jan. 1, 2023

Law enforcement encourages motorists to 'drive safe' through the holidays

Holiday safety is an issue that burns brightest from late November to mid-January, when families gather, parties are scheduled and travel spikes, and the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency (ALEA) continues to urge motorists traveling on Alabama roadways to slow down and prepare ahead to ensure everyone arrives safely to their destination.

"The days leading up to Christmas through New Year's Day are a wonderful time for celebration and happiness, as this is truly a season to cherish with friends and family," said ALEA Secretary Hal Taylor. "However, we all must remember the hazards associated with traveling during this busy time of year."

The extended holiday travel period began at 12:01 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 24, and will end at midnight Sunday, Jan. 1, 2023. During this time, ALEA's Troopers assigned to the Highway Patrol Division will conduct a variety of enforcement activities, including driver license and equipment check points, to curb such deadly behaviors as driving under the influence, driving while distracted, not buckling up, speeding and following too closely.

Already during this holiday travel period, local emergency responders have worked multiple vehicle accidents in Elba and Coffee County. Fortunately, no major injuries have been reported from these accidents, but the same cannot be said for the vehicles as most have seen heavy damage leaving the vehicle undrivable.

As the holiday season continues over the next several days, all are encouraged to take extra precautions when traveling on the roadways. Drivers should watch their speed, avoid distractions while driving, do not drive impaired, and pay attention to the other vehicles on the roadway too.

TWO-VEHICLE WRECK IN CURTIS COMMUNITY SENDS TWO TO HOSPITAL... It was still pre-dawn Friday, Dec. 23, around 5 a.m., when a two-vehicle wreck was reported at the intersection of U.S. Hwy. 84 and Alabama Hwy. 141 in the Curtis Community. Upon arrival on scene, emergency responders found the two vehicles in the median of the roadway – one with heavy damage to the front of the vehicle and the other flipped over on its side. Officials said there were a total of seven people inside the vehicles, including the two drivers. Of the seven, two were transported to a local hospital to be treated for injuries sustained; however, it was believed those injuries were not serious. Officials said both vehicles were traveling through the area from out-of-state with no local area people involved in this accident. Investigators said the vehicle traveling on Hwy. 141 failed to stop at the stop sign moving into the path of the other vehicle traveling on Hwy 84 and thus causing the collision.

TWO VEHICLE WRECK REPORTED MONDAY NIGHT IN ELBA... Emergency responders in Elba were dispatched to the scene of this two-vehicle wreck Monday night, Dec. 26, at approximately 11:30 p.m., at the intersection of Claxton Avenue and Highway 203 (U.S. Hwy 84). Reportedly, the Chevrolet shown above had collided with a FedEx truck. No injuries were reported from this accident. Elba Police and Fire responded to the wreck. No further details were available from this wreck as of press time this week. The Elba Volunteer Fire Department had a busy Monday as the firefighters were dispatched to two motor vehicle wrecks, and a brush fire. Then, early Tuesday morning, Dec. 27, the fire department was dispatched to a house fire on County Rd. 410.

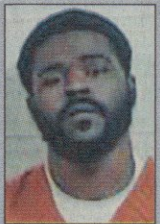

TWO-VEHICLE WRECK REPORTED IN FRONT OF DOLLAR GENERAL IN ELBA... Elba Police and Fire were dispatched Monday afternoon, Dec. 26, to a two-vehicle wreck at the intersection in front of Dollar General on Hwy 203 (U.S. Hwy 84) in Elba. The wreck was reported to Elba Police at 12:30 p.m. Monday afternoon. Upon arrival on scene, responders found that a SUV traveling on the highway had 't-boned' a truck attempting to cross the highway from Martin Luther King Dr. (by the Dollar General store). Responders reported no major injuries from this accident despite the point of impact. This was the first of two accidents reported at intersections on State Hwy 203 in Elba on Monday.
